'Saddam Hussein, Leader of the 7th Century Al-Madaftari and the International Charismatic Alliance of the Nation of Spirituality, was our guest yesterday and held an emotional and inspiring meeting with the Global Leaders. His visit is part of the recent activities in Hamad Bin Khalifa City and will continue on Monday,' the statement said. The meeting, which included the leaders and staff of the global movement, was held at the Al Bahrain Hotel and Spa. Mr Hussein, a former Iraqi leader, has been living in the United Arab Emirates since he was freed by American forces in December 2003. The international movement has said it believes Mr Hussein was part of a large-scale Iranian plot to kill diplomats and journalists in the UAE in February. The statement said: 'Saddam is the only person left alive from the Seven Time Zone Islamic nation of the Prophet Mohammed and this is his first public appearance since he was freed from decades of imprisonment in Iraq. 'His message is to tell people that from all aspects of life Islam is the way to walk. Islam means peace, and peace is the truth and truth is Islam. Islam is the opposite of politics. 'Saddam has a message for all good Muslims and for all good Christians, for everyone who wants to serve others, to help people.' The statement said: 'During his time in Dubai, Mr Hussein has explained to the world that Muslims are the chosen ones, the chosen by God. Islam has a great power and energy. 'But Islam is the way to live, not to kill, to help others, to fight injustice, to be good to each other, to be kind to each other, to help other people, to love to each other, to be inclusive and not exclusive.
